

MEDIA RELEASE FROM NORWOOD MALL

December 2013

Norwood Mall Rooftop Market is a gift for last-minute festive shoppers

Left your Christmas shopping to the last minute? No idea how you're going to find everything you need in one shopping trip? We've got the answer. Norwood Mall.

The original B&B Sunday Rooftop Market is holding its last market for the year this Sunday, 22 December, giving you the perfect opportunity to get all your festive fare and gifts under one happy roof – even at the last minute. It will re-open on Sunday, 5th January 2014.

With over 300 traders, the market offers a complete sensory experience with a wide range of gifts, gourmet foods, arts and crafts, antiques and collectibles.

When it comes to gifts, you'll find something for something for everyone on your list. There's great gift ideas, from collectable Mandela coins to etched aluminium jewellery, and beautiful South African skyline panoramas to handcrafted quality leather belts, unique arm wallets for cellphones and valuables, and even feather down duvets and oriental carpets.

Grab something delicious while you are there, or take it home for your festive celebration. Among the tastiest treats on the menu are gourmet burgers, chilli chutney and traditional British pork pies.

And, for added benefit, you can also enjoy shopping at Norwood Mall's 80 fantastic stores and choose from a vast selection of gifts, fashion, beauty and much more. And, with Pick n Pay, Woolworths and Food Lover's Market all at Norwood Mall, you'll find everything you need for the most delicious meals this season.
